Colts Field Weil.

In justice to the Colts, it must be said that they were not responsible for the crudeness of the national passitime. The fact that Merchant, the recruit from Wilmington, of the Iri-State, who was doing the slab work, was hit for fourteen bingles, and yet but four runs were scored, is proof that the men behind him did their part of the work. In addition, there were two double plays, which shut off any possibilities of scoring by the visitors. Dobson made his debut as a member of the 1311 Colts, and secured two hits out of his five trips, also stealing home while Cy Brady was getting himself in shape to deliver the pellet. Dobson was warmly welcomed by his old friends, and made some new ones.

Laughlin's Men in Bad Shape.

As to the part which Dunville had in the fest, the least said the better. Some of the team did not make errors, but most of it did, and only the kindliest kind of scoring kept the error column as free as it appears.

Laughlin started out with his usual line-up, but when the game was not half over Morgan hurt his finger. Brady had his feelings hurt and Joe was compelled to send Hanks to first, where the manager had been stationed, going to second himself and shifting Cogsins to short field. Brady was put in right and Frye was called in from that portion of the garden to do the mounding.

The Colts scored twice in the first, Baker walked, and scored on Wallace's double to centre. Wallace scored later on Martin's single to the same place. Two more were added in the second

The fifth was the resting period, and the sixth yielded just that number of tallies, Baker, McCabe, Egan, Martin, Mattis and Cowan each crossing. A brace came in the eighth, and tae final chapter was responsible for one.

BY GUS MALBERT.

Painfully wearlsome were the 130 minutes through which a depleted attendance sat watching a holocaust, beside which the slaughter of some hundreds of Chinese in the far South was as the gentlest touch of a summer zephyr. It was not the clean-cut wound of the Mauser which was inflicted, but a tearing and mangling of the ligaments, and the Red Socks, from the city in which near-riots can be suaried by 116-pound boys, were the subjects. Less we forget, it was a ball game between Danville and Richmond, and the score was 17 to 4.

Joe Laughlin says it happened because all of his ball players are sick or near-sick, which really amounts to the same thing. Whatever the excuses or whatever the causes, the exhibition was listless, marked by poor exhibition of the sport and would have been amusing but that some people take their baseball seriously.

Bring Your Clothes Money Here To-Day

you who seek for the best clothes value your money can get for you. We have planned for to-day's and to-morrow's selling an array of values, the best of the season, new, fresh, crisp spring styles just in from our Baltimore manufacturing headquarters, and whether $12.50, $15, $18, $20, $25 or $30 is the price you have determined on spending for your spring suit, you will find here not only clothes that satisfy in value, but in pattern and fitting as well.

If you want the very best blue serge suit that can be had for $15, come here to-day. All wool Peacedale Serges, acid tested forwarrant of color, alpaca half lined and sewed throughout with silk. Two-button, long roll styles with broad hem pog trousers, or three-button sacks with conservative shaped trousers. In mixtures, gray, tan, brown and olive, the young, middle-agod or elderly man can find his size and his pattern amongst these good suits on sale to-day & to-morrow.

$15,000

At $18, $20, $22.50 you can pick your suit from a line so vast and so good as to make "best" selection almost a perplexity. Every idea of weave and shade in plul blue, serge, self-stripe and shadow stripe serge, nest and fancy effect homespuns, tweeds, worsteds, cheviot and cassimeres—dressy black unfinished worsteds and serges—styled in the very latest one, two and three-button sacks and thoroughly "Burk" tailored. Value, the clothes-buyer's prime ambition, emphatic in every suit.

FOR 500-MILE AUTO RACE
Indianapolis, Ind., May 25.—Barring accidents, all of the forty-six entries in the 500-mile automobile race to be held next Tuesday, will qualify for that event to-morrow. A large crowd to-day watched all but one of the entries work out on the two and one-half-mile track. All the cars showed sufficient speed, under the watch, to meet the seventy-five-miles-an-hour-test demanded for qualification. The only car not out was the Amplex machine, in which Joseph Horan was injured yesterday.

It is possible that there will be forty-seven starters in the Memorial Day race.
